License No. 3535533

Sam Devlin began his working life as a highly successful Real Estate Agent before making the move in to Auctioneering, which for him was a natural and comfortable progression.

He is renowned for bringing a unique energy and intelligence to the world of auctioneering and was awarded a Queensland Auctioneering title at the very start of his career. Always adapting to the changes in market and to his client's requirements, his skillset continues to go from strength to strength.

Having achieved results as high as $1,190,000 above reserve, Sam believes the true testament to being a first class Auctioneer isn't just found in the Dollar results, but rather the ability to negotiate the tough deals. Renowned for his tenacious negotiation and always working with his seller's best interests in mind, Sam has negotiated some positive outcomes that others would have considered impossible and will ensure that he is onboard until the job is done.

AARON BROOKS

License No. 2104235

Aaron started his real estate career 1992 as the first ever real estate cadet in Australia and was awarded in 1993 and 1994 as Ray White Cadet of the Year.

Aaron went to NZ as an Office Manager / Auctioneer with the company Harvey's in Auckland where he ran two offices in 1997 and 1998. Both of those offices were in the top 3 for Harvey's Group NZ, number 1 and number 3, and they were number 1 and number 2 auction offices for company.

When Aaron returned to Australia in 1999, he took on the role as Chief Auctioneer for the Harcourts Queensland Group and continued this role until 2004. In 2000, Aaron was awarded the Real Estate Institute of Queensland's Auctioneer of the Year. Aaron then went on to be the CEO of the group from 2004 until 2014 where he took the organisation from 47 offices to 110 offices. Aaron sold his shares in the company and established his own coaching businesses.

Aaron has now turned his full-time attention to the Harcourts offices in Coorparoo & Beenleigh as Director and co-owner.

Aaron Brooks has conducted over 7,000 property auctions and worked with many of Australia's leading sales consultants over the last 20 years of him being in the industry.

SCOTT KELLEHER

License No. 4217502

Scott Kelleher is a highly accomplished auctioneer whose passion for people, property and performance is evident every time he steps behind the podium. With over a decade of industry experience and a phenomenal record of successful property sales, Scott is renowned for his ability to command a room, create competition and drive premium results through the auction process.

Scott's strength as an auctioneer lies in his exceptional communication skills, sharp market awareness and instinctive understanding of buyer behaviour. Supported by his highly dedicated team, he approaches each campaign with meticulous attention to detail, ensuring every auction is strategically prepared and professionally executed to maximise outcomes for his clients.

For Scott, auctioneering is about more than selling property; it is about creating momentum, building trust and delivering an unforgettable experience that leads to outstanding results. He values the relationships formed throughout the process just as highly as the results achieved, with many clients becoming long-term supporters and friends. The Wynnum and Manly community provides the perfect backdrop for his work, offering a rare blend of lifestyle, location and strong local spirit.
